SG1A 00B: (161535L JUL 90): The [redacted] is heading NNE to a point where it will rendezvous SG1A with a large ship (the [redacted] and make a 2-way exchange. The (captain of the)
SG1A [redacted] has no trust in the [redacted] and has a great deal of fear that things will not go SG1A well. The (captain of the) [redacted] has so much confidence that he "lords it over" the SG1A [redacted] An arrangement has been made for the exchange wherein the transfer of the SG1A [redacted] to the [redacted] and the transfer of the [redacted] will begin at the SG1A same time. However, the [redacted] goods will be sent out to the side, to a point where SG1A the [redacted] could reach it before the [redacted] should the [redacted] not honor its part SG1A of the exchange, but close enough where the [redacted] could not get to the goods and get SG1A away, if it were to try to cheat the [redacted] The transfer of goods from the [redacted] SG1A to the [redacted] will not be completed (by design) until after the transfer of goods from the SG1A [redacted] to the [redacted] is complete.

The rendezvous will take place in the region of (center of mass for 3 searches) 1100N/5200W.

SG1A

The transfer of goods from each ship will begin on the afternoon of 16 JUL 90. The transfer of goods from the [redacted] end during the night of 19 JUL 90.
The transfer of goods from [redacted] will then take place during the day on the 19th. Interdiction should take place at this point (afternoon of 19 JUL 90).

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

1. There is a large stack of packages [redacted] what appears to be marijuana in a hold on the right hand side of one of the ships ([redacted] near the rear of the ship and below decks in a cubby-hole between stored items and machinery (see sketch, page 5). This is not the only drugs aboard the ship.

2. There is a very strong distrust between the two ship captains which is a key factor in their actions. The exploitation of this distrust is a key factor in the interdiction and/or prosecution involved with this incident.
